DEAR EVANGELIST:—The memories of an exciting and interesting experience naturally linger long in the chambers of the mind, and so we find ourselves reverting often to the scenes of the last Conference. How swiftly the events of this life come and go. They appear one moment on the horizon of anticipation; the next moment they flit across the zenith of the present; the next they are gone into the past eternity. In memory only can we recall them, but memory cannot change them. Fortunately, so far as the last Conference is concerned, there is little that any one would wish to change. It did good, solid, lasting work. There is a universal feeling that it was the wisest, most practical, most successful Conference we ever had; and that it did more for the future prosperity of the church than any of its predecessors. The strong feeling present in the Conference itself, of satisfaction with what was done, and of its importance, was manifested in the unanimous vote for another Conference next year. It was felt on all sides that our national Conference was powerfully directing the Brotherhood into practical channels of successful work, that it was laying the solid foundations for a great activity and a great prosperity in the future, and that every interest therefore demanded that the good work be sedulously preserved in, and carried to completion. There is not the slightest doubt that the church is entering upon a period of great prosperity. All the signs point to that end. It depends no longer upon any one man. Strong men are no longer missed when they absent themselves from the Conference. Big resignations scarcely make a ripple. Every one at the last Conference was conscious of a feeling of strength, of security, of solid foundations which cannot be moved, of assured growth, of certain destiny. We hope to send better reports from the Virginia work this conference year. The cause is in its infancy in most sections of the State, but the infant seems to be at least healthy, and perhaps vigorous. Our little Buena Vista mission is prospering, and our pastor, Eld. J. W. Purseley is quite much encouraged. Congregations are good, and applicants are offering for baptism.

Fraternally,
B. C. MOOMAW.

HUNTINGTON NEWS.

Huntington, Ind., September 10th, '94

DEAR EDITOR EVANGELIST:—It has been a long time since I gave you the items from this point. We had a rousing Harvest Home Meeting. The crowd was estimated at over four thousand. A good time was had by all present.

At the last quarterly meeting it was the almost unanimous desire that I should remain with them another year. I consented to remain until they can secure the services of some one else, I have been here so long that I feel as though a change would be for the best interest of all concerned. I will have some spare Sabbaths.

Since my last communication I have paid the last tribute to my father at the ripe old age of 85 years 2 months 28 days. He was well prepared and like Job, "ready for the change." Mother is four years his junior and is well preserved.

Thus one by one we fly away,
This life is fleeting as a day.

We have set the time for our communion service to be on Saturday before the second sabbath of Oct. Brethren please note this and arrange to meet with us. All are welcome.

On the 8th. inst was the Demorest Contest. Sisters Farie Sprinkle, and Tena Wirts, together with a number of others rendered splendid selections in an efficient manner. But the lucky one was Sister Tena. Paul speaks of a prize that all may obtain, let us press toward the mark and obtain it, Brethren.

The national Conference is now a thing of the past but it did one thing that was hardly fare. It takes two of our young ministers that we can hardly spare. But our Bro. Rensch will tighten up the burrs around the College and Brother Miller will soon have some young Brethren in his department ready to fill our wants in Indiana; and so the work will move along. Let the watchword be "every shoulder to the wheel" God's blessing follow and we will be the happier in the eventide of life. With Malice toward none and Charity to all, let us go forth in the strength of Israel's God and Victory will perch upon our banners.

Frat.

I wrote you last sending some manuscript containing some questions. One very important question I left out, I will send it; please attach it to the others for publication.

How long will it take some of the Brethren ministers to learn that the distinctive doctrine of the Brethren church is Baptism by trine immersion, washing the Saint's feet, the Lord's Supper Communion and Salutation or Kiss of Charity.
